EAA CHAPTER 145

SINCE 1962

Chapter Meeting: Saturday, January 10, 2015 – 10:00 am
Riverview Airport (08C) in the meeting room

Happy New Year!!

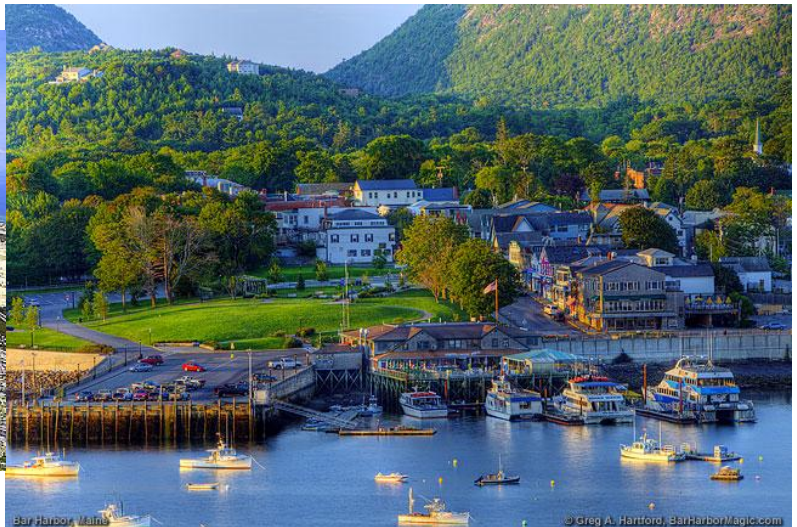

Let's bid a wonderful farewell to the old year and welcome the new one with optimism and hope. Wish you a happy, healthy, and prosperous new year.

CHAPTER MEETING

Herb Harney will be giving a presentation on the New England Trip taken last fall by the Riverview pilots. They flew over to Bar Harbor, Maine, then on to Providencetown, Mass. and some in the group flew the New York Corridor up the Hudson River. Herb will share the details of this adventurous flight to the Nor'east.

HINTS FOR HOMEBUILDERS

Now is primetime for building on your airplane. The garage workshop is heated and ready for that project, and the weather is not that great, so you might as well stay inside and get things done. But you come to a stumbling block... cannot figure out how to get that bend, or the proper drilling method, or maybe a rivet went bad, etc.

Well, there's hope. Go to the EAA website and research the Sport Aviation archives. There is over 60 years of knowledge there...someone along the way must have found a solution to the issue you're facing.

Go to EAA – Education & Resources – Publications – EAA Sport Aviation - Archives

When you're there, you can search by Keyword, Author, Title, etc. For example, using the Title search, I typed in "hints" to try to find "Hints for Homebuilders" and there were many results returned.

EAA SPORT AVIATION

One of EAA's most popular member benefits is EAA Sport Aviation, the award-winning monthly magazine that covers the full spectrum of association activity.

Available in print and digital formats, EAA Sport Aviation delivers "How do I?" features, articles, and departments, with special emphasis on innovation, affordability, and the spirit of community and camaraderie that sets EAAers apart.

EAA Sport Aviation embraces the diversity of EAA's membership - from the production aircraft parked in the North 40 on the AirVenture grounds to warbirds, homebuilts, vintage aircraft, ultralights, and lightplanes - and delivers the information, knowledge, entertainment, and value that EAA members want.

This Month's Extras

Videos, photos, photos, related links, and other resources that correspond with content in this month's

Archives

More than 50,000 pages and 60 years of Sport Aviation are available only to EAA members.

I've included a few examples of "Hints for Homebuilders" along with this newsletter.

Also, the EAA website is building a video library of "Hints For Homebuilders". The videos cover the whole range of abilities and materials used in the building of your airplane. The subjects of the videos are General, Sheet Metal, Tube / Fabric, Wood, Composite, Electrical.
