

MEETING TIME SAT. MAY 13 EAA HANGER RIVERVIEW

GRAND RAPIDS

CHAPTER 145

Web Page (<http://www.EAA145.org>)

Program for Saturday May 13, 2006,
10am, EAA hanger, Riverview Airport.

The program this month will be presented by Chuck Helmholdt. He had the experience of building his own 180HP, Superior XP360 engine. He will tell the story and show photos of how he and his son went to Texas and assembled the engine that will power his experimental aircraft. This should be an interesting program, many people build their own airplane, but how many build their own engine?

Notes from last month's meeting, April 8, 2006

Chapter 145 met in EAA hanger at Riverview airport. Hugh welcomed everyone and there was nothing of interest from headquarters. Bill Willard gave a financial report (Chuck was in Texas).

Dick stated that 14 people were signed up to go to The Weeks Hanger, Oshkosh, on April 21-23.

Riverview Airport will sponsor an "aviation youth" open house on Saturday June 3. Thanks to the 14 members who signed up to help out. See attached flyer for more info.

The program was about "SMAT". Duane Linsley, instructor at The School of Missionary Aviation Technology, from Lowell, gave an interesting talk about their A&P program and how it relates to the missionary field. He also told several interesting stories of his field experiences in New Guinea. Many thanks go to Duane for a most interesting program.

The progress in RV construction in the EAA hanger was "inspected" by all members ...the consensus excellent workmanship!

NOTE : 1

All Dues for 2006 should be paid by the end of May.

Send them to Chuck Garrett or at the May meeting. Thanks

NOTE: 2 Please post the attached flyer someplace if you can and pass the word!
